

Call for Papers, 53rd Annual NeMLA Convention

Announcement published by Derek McGrath on Thursday, June 17, 2021

Type:

Conference

Date:

September 30, 2021

Subject Fields:

Cultural History / Studies, Languages, Literature, Teaching and Learning, Graduate Studies

The 53rd Northeast Modern Language Association Convention will take place March 10 to 13, 2022, in Baltimore, MD. We are delighted to announce that Professor Judith Butler will be our 2022 keynote! And Valeria Luiselli, author of the prize-winning Lost Children Archive (the 2022 novel for “NeMLA Reads Together”), will give our opening address. Please submit abstracts at <https://www.cfplist.com/nemla/Home/CFP> by September 30, 2021. The conference will be sponsored and hosted by Johns Hopkins University in collaboration with NeMLA’s administrative host institution, the University at Buffalo. For more information, please visit buffalo.edu/nemla/convention.html.

Contact Info:

Carine Mardrossian

Contact Email:

support@nemla.org

URL:

<https://www.cfplist.com/nemla/Home/CFP>