

Open Access pilot for Latin American monographs expands

Discussion published by Dominique Daniel on Thursday, July 29, 2021

"A partnership led by the Latin Americanist Research Resources Project (LARRP) in collaboration with the Latin American Council of Social Sciences (CLACSO), JSTOR, and Latin American bookseller García Cambeiro has expanded a sustainable Open Access pilot (Publish as Open) for monographs developed and supported by the library community. This is the second phase of a project to expand Latin American OA ebooks accessible through Books at JSTOR and to explore further opportunities for developing this model with other university presses."

Source: JSTOR, June 9, 2021,
<https://about.jstor.org/news/open-access-pilot-for-latin-american-monographs-expands>