

President Muhammadu Buhari And The War Against Terrorism in Nigeria

Announcement published by Egodi Uchendu on Thursday, August 5, 2021

Type:

Workshop

Date:

August 10, 2021 to December 10, 2021

Location:

Nigeria

Subject Fields:

African History / Studies, Contemporary History, Diplomacy and International Relations, Military History, Women's & Gender History / Studies

Since 2009, insecurity has defined Nigeria; with insurgency and terrorism increasing by leaps and bounds. This workshop, slated to hold in Abuja in April 2022, is devoted to a multi-disciplinary and multi-ideological examination of the present government's efforts to combat terrorism in Nigeria. Consequently, scholars, activists, military and other professionals are invited to untangle the issues undergirding these problems, their manifestations, their impacts on the nation, her peoples and economy, and how far the government has gone in stabilizing the nation. Send an abstract of 250 words maximum on any topic dealing with the theme of the workshop to terrorismworkshop2022@gmail.com. (Once the target number of participants is reached, abstract acceptance will cease.) Other details of the workshop will be announced to authors of accepted abstracts before the end of this year.

Contact Info:

Professor Egodi Uchendu

For African Humanities Research and Development Circle (AHRDC)

University of Nigeria, Nsukka

Contact Email:

egodi.uchendu@unn.edu.ng

URL:

<https://web.facebook.com/groups/745979455542072>