

Digital War History

Discussion published by Nina Janz on Thursday, August 5, 2021

Dear colleagues,

I am looking for an exchange about digital content on war history and your experiences with different tools, software, platforms, websites etc. for any time period and region.

I am interested in a wide range of projects: from the digitisation of military records to (online) biographies and battle mapping.

I would like to build a network with experts specifically working on war history and its digital implementation in research, education and the public sector.

Best regards from Luxembourg,

Nina Janz
