

[UPDATE] Monsters and the Irish Imagination (9/10/15; New England ACIS Regional Conference - West Haven, CT 11/20-21/15)

Announcement published by Michael Torregrossa on Tuesday, September 1, 2015

Type:

Call for Papers

Date:

September 10, 2015

Location:

Connecticut, United States

Subject Fields:

European History / Studies, Popular Culture Studies, Medieval and Byzantine History / Studies, Literature, Film and Film History

Monsters and the Irish Imagination

Session Sponsored by the Science Fiction, Fantasy, Horror, and Legend Area of the Northeast Popular Culture/American Culture Association

For the New England ACIS Regional Conference

20-21 November 2015

University of New Haven

West Haven, Connecticut

Proposals by 10 September 2015

Following a successful session last year devoted to Bram Stoker's Dracula and its afterlives, the Science Fiction, Fantasy, Horror, and Legend Area of the Northeast Popular Culture/American Culture Association seeks to continue our association with the New England Region of the American Conference for Irish Studies by organizing a session (or set of sessions) devoted to the larger topic of monsters and the Irish imagination.

We seek proposals of 250 words and short biographical statements (50 words or less) from interested individuals. Presentations will be limited to 15-20 minutes speaking time.

Please submit required materials by 10 September 2015 to the session organizer, Michael Torregrossa, at nepcafantastic@gmail.com using the subject heading "Monsters and the Irish Imagination".

The University of New Haven is located in West Haven, Connecticut and is easily accessible from Boston and New York by car and train. Direct inquiries to Chris Dowd, the conference organizer, at cmdowd@newhaven.edu. All conference presenters will be required to be members of the American Conference for Irish Studies (acisweb.org). Additional information on this year's meeting (including details on registration and accommodations) is available at www.newhaven.edu/4486/academicprograms/undergraduate/english/894500/.

Further information on Science Fiction, Fantasy, Horror, and Legend Area of the Northeast Popular Culture/American Culture Association can be found at <http://nepcafantastic.blogspot.com>.

Contact Info:

Michael A. Torregrossa

Area Chair, Science Fiction, Fantasy, Horror, and Legend Area of the Northeast Popular Culture/American Culture Association

Contact Email:

nepcafantastic@gmail.com

URL:

<http://nepcafantastic.blogspot.com>