

From the representation of estates to the representation of the nation: The state of the art

Announcement published by Pekka Turpeinen on Thursday, September 30, 2021

Type:

Seminar

Date:

November 4, 2021 to November 5, 2021

Subject Fields:

Political History / Studies, Digital Humanities, Political Science

Thursday afternoon 4 November

10.00 UTC/ 11.00 CET/ 12.00 EET

Seventeenth-Century English practices, theories, discourses of political representation

11.10 CET Paul Seaward (History of Parliament, London), Representation and Personation in pre-Civil War English politics

11.40 CET Markku Peltonen (Helsinki), Democracy and representation in English Revolution

12.10 CET Mark Knights (Warwick), Formal and informal representation in the later Stuart period, 1660-1720

12.40 CET General Discussion

13.00 CET Break

Eighteenth-Century British practices, theories and practices of political representation

13.30 CET Max Skjönsberg (Liverpool), Elections and ancient constitutionalism in Britain, 1689 - 1832

14.00 CET Zachris Haaparinne (Jyväskylä), Negotiating representation: The case of mid-eighteenth century British petitions

14.30 CET Joanna Innes (Oxford), Methods of exploring legislative culture and practice in eighteenth and nineteenth-century Britain

15.00 CET General discussion

15.30 CET Break

Early modern versus revolutionary practices, theories and discourses of political representation on the European continent

16:00 CET Tim Neu (Vienna), The transformation of political representation in the German lands from early modern estates to the early modern parliaments

16:30 CET Pablo Sánchez León (Lisbon), Estates, people, nation: changing frameworks of political representation in Spain between the end of the Old Regime and early Liberalism, 1766-1812

17:00 CET Bert Drejer (European University Institute), The concept of political representation in the early modern Dutch Republic

17:30 CET Joris Oddens (Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences, Amsterdam), Revolutionising representation in the Netherlands around 1800

18:00-18:30 CET General discussion

Friday morning 5 November 2021

Interdisciplinary approaches to the history of political representation since the French Revolution

8.00 UTC / 9.00 CET / 10.00 EET Keynote: John Keane (Sydney (UTC+10) and Wissenschaftszentrum, Berlin), Post-1945 monitory democracy and representation in historical perspective

10:00 CET Break

Introductions to the subthemes of Academy of Finland Professor Project "Political Representation: Tensions between Parliament and the People from the Age of Revolutions to the 21st Century" see for further information: <https://www.jyu.fi/hytk/fi/laitokset/hela/en/research/political-represent...>

10.30 CET Pasi Ihalainen, The project research design and the first observations on the British data in relation to previous research

11.00 CET Jani Marjanen, The constitutional moment that happened abroad: Finnish public discourse on European constitutions 1809-1930

11.15 CET Jussi Kurunmäki, Absence of Political Representation: The Case of Finland 1809-1863 in an Interantional Perspective

11.30 CET Hugo Bonin, Re-evaluating the tensions between democracy and liberalism through parliamentary debates: First steps and the path ahead

11.45 CET General discussion

12.30 CET End of the webinar

Contact Info:

In this webinar, we review discussion on popular sovereignty and representation with experts on 17th, 18th and early 19th-century political thought and parliamentary history. Participation in the webinar is free of charge but you should register at <zaemhaap@student.jyu.fi> to receive a link and passcode.

Contact Email:

zaemhaap@student.jyu.fi

URL:

<https://www.jyu.fi/hytk/fi/laitokset/hela/en/research/political-representation/news-and-events/news/from-the-representat...>