Featured Job

Assistant Professor of History (United States), Tenure-track

Elon University

Department of History and Geography, Assistant Professor of History. Elon University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in United States History, beginning mid-August, 2022. The candidate must hold a PhD in United States History, American Indian Studies, Public History, or a related field. Preference will be given to candidates whose research focus is Native American/Indigenous Studies. The selected candidate will teach courses in United States History, specialization open, as well as courses in the planned new Museum Studies and Public History curriculum and within Elon's Core Curriculum, which addresses themes related to cultural diversity and the study of race, racism, ethnicity, inequality, religion, disability, gender, and sexuality. Candidates who have experience working with a diverse range of people, and who can contribute to a climate of inclusivity, are encouraged to identify their experiences in their cover letter.

Elon is a dynamic private, co-educational, comprehensive institution that is a national model for actively engaging faculty and students in teaching and learning in a liberal arts based residential campus. To learn more about Elon, please visit the University web site at www.elon.edu <<http://www.elon.edu>>. Review of applications will begin immediately. Applications must be received by November 1, 2021 to be guaranteed full consideration. Send letter of application, CV, transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to historysearch2021@elon.edu. Elon University is an equal opportunity employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body and welcomes all applicants.
