

CfP Working Paper Series En-Gender

Announcement published by Jessica Albrecht on Thursday, October 21, 2021

Type:

Call for Publications

Subject Fields:

Black History / Studies, Sexuality Studies, Women's & Gender History / Studies, Race Studies, Philosophy

En-Gender is published as a working paper series. Papers will be published individually together with a response which will appear on the blog.

We suggest topics for the upcoming articles but always encourage new approaches and ideas.

If you have something you want to publish please write us an email to discuss the possibilities.

You can send us your paper or an abstract to see if it fits the scope of the working paper series.

We are accepting submissions for small pieces, essays, papers and talks from 3000 to 8000 words.

If you would like to contribute, please email your idea, piece or abstract to: engenderingthepast@gmail.com

CfP Working Paper Series:

For the next volume of the working paper series we want you to think outside the box and come back to criticize it!

We will accept papers for the following broad topics:

- Art
- Voice(s)
- Decolonising
- Transgressions
- Creativity and Change
- Gender and the Pandemic
