Polish Studies Article Prize

Discussion published by Patrice Dabrowski on Tuesday, November 16, 2021

British Association for Slavonic & East European Studies

Polish Studies Group

invites scholars and publishers to submit original research articles or book chapter for the first edition of the annual

Polish Studies Article Prize

The prize honours the best English-language article or book chapter in Polish studies published in a peer-reviewed journal or an edited collection with an imprint of 2021. The prize is open to scholars of all nationalities whose work advances the field of Polish studies, in any academic discipline. Doctoral candidates and Early Career Researchers are encouraged to apply.

The prize of £200 is funded by the Polish Studies Foundation. The winner will be invited to give a lecture on their research at the annual workshop of the Polish Studies Group.

Nominations and self-nominations are due on or before January 10, 2022. The results will be announced in April. Please send a nomination form (text of the form below) and digital copy of the nominated work to Dr Katarzyna Nowak katarzyna.nowak@vwi.ac.at

Polish Studies Article Prize

Nomination Form

Name of the author:

Email address:
Title of the nominated article/chapter:

Journal/edited volume title:

Issue, number, page range (if relevant/ available):

Year of publication:

Link to the nominated article:

Please return this form to Dr Katarzyna Nowak at katarzyna.nowak@vwi.at.ac by 10th of January 2022 with the nominated article/chapter as a pdf attachment.