

Southeast Asia and the Future of Rules-Based \(Liberal\) Order

Announcement published by Rebecca Russell on Monday, January 24, 2022

Type:

Event

District Of Columbia,

Date:

February 11, 2022

Subject Fields:

Asian History / Studies, Political Science, Southeast Asian History / Studies, Research and Methodology, Public Policy

On February 11th, the Sigur Center for Asian Studies will host Benjamin Ho, Assistant Professor at the China Programme of the S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS) in Singapore, to discuss how views of a rules-based international order are developing with regards to Southeast Asia. After Ho shares his expertise, he will engage in a moderated Q&A session with David Shambaugh, Gaston Sigur Professor of Asian Studies, Political Science, and International Affairs at GW.

The webinar begins at 12:30 PM EST on Friday, February 11. Registered guests will receive an email with instructions for joining the webinar prior to the event. Registration closes at 12:30 PM EST on February 10, 24 hours before the event begins.

This event is free, open to the public, and will be recorded. Questions can be sent in advance to gsigur@gwu.edu with subject "Southeast Asian Order Q&A."

Contact Info:

Rebecca Russell

Contact Email:

rebrus@email.gwu.edu

URL:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/southeast-asia-and-the-future-of-the-rules-based-liberal-order-tickets-244667746817>