Deadline Approaches to Apply for the Exec. Master in Development Policies and Practices at the Graduate Institute, Geneva

Announcement published by Assel Rutgers on Wednesday, March 2, 2022
Type:
Fellowship
Date:
June 1, 2022 to January 25, 2023
Location:
Switzerland
Subject Fields:
Area Studies, Government and Public Service, Graduate Studies, Public Policy, Social Sciences

If you are a mid-level development professional who aspires for leadership positions in governments, NGOs or International Organizations, please consider applying for a 6-month-long Executive Master Program in Development Policies and Practices (DPP) at the Graduate Institute, Geneva. The three academic modules, two of which are conducted in person at convenient times of the year (summer and winter), introduce an intense curriculum worth 30 ECTS credits.

Varied teaching methods aim to enhance strategic analysis, critical thinking, and foresight to develop innovative solutions to the specific problems our participants are professionally engaged in.

Scholarships are available for priority countries and include tuition reduction, partially cover travel, cover all visa expenses and stay in the regional hubs and Geneva. DPP Fellows will also gain access to a network of nearly 1000 professionals located around the world.

The last deadline to apply is March 15, 2022. You can find more information in the link below.

Contact Info:
Assel Tutumlu, Associate Professor and Academic Coordinator of the DPP Caucasus and Central Asia Program

Contact Email:
assel.tutumlu@graduateinstitute.ch
URL: