

Dear Colleagues,

As many of you are writing and/or revising syllabi for the Fall semester, we thought you might find the following tool useful for locating relevant course readings.

We are introducing the Ab Imperio Syllabus project (Reading Library for our Syllabi) to make navigating the English-language articles published by Ab Imperio over the span of 20 years easier; now you can search articles chronologically and thematically, you can also browse articles by keywords, regions, and more.

Follow this link to try our new syllabus-constructing tool: <https://sites.google.com/view/ai-syllabus/home>
